DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Alberth et al. (US 6,094,565).

Regarding Claim 5, Alberth et al. discloses a power control apparatus in a portable radio terminal (102), comprising: an external function key (208) located in an accessible key input position by a user, as shown in Fig. 2; a power key for controlling power, as disclosed in col. 3, ln. 38-44; and as shown in Fig. 1; and a unit (304) for controlling the portable radio terminal (102) to be powered on in response to a key input from either said external function key (208) or said power key (see col. 3, ln. 38-44; Fig. 1) when the portable radio terminal (102) is powered-off and controlling a function of the portable radio terminal (102) to be performed in response to a key input from either said external function key (208) or said power key (see col. 3, ln. 38-44; Fig. 1) when the portable radio terminal (102) is powered-on, as discussed in col. 3, ln. 38-44, col. 4, ln. 43-53; and as shown in Figs. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-4 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding Claim 1, Alberth et al. discloses a power control apparatus in a foldable portable radio terminal (102) which includes a main body (110), a sub-body (112), a key-pad (137) including a power key (see col. 3, ln. 38-44; Fig. 1) on the main body (110), an external function key (208) which can be key-inputted by a user even if the sub-body (112) is closed onto the main body (110), as discussed in col. 2, ln. 60 - col. 3, ln. 55; col. 4, ln. 43-53; and as shown in Figs. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

The applied reference fails to disclose or render the obvious, said power control apparatus comprising: a first switch; a second switch; and a control unit for controlling said first and second switches according to a powered-on/off state of the terminal; wherein one end of each of said first switch and said second switch is connected in common at a first node connected to the external function key and the other end of said first switch is connected to a first input end of said control unit, and the other end of said second switch and the power key are connected in common via a second node connected to a second input end of said control unit..

Regarding Claim 3, Lim discloses a power control apparatus in a portable radio terminal (1) which can be folded in an automatic and manual manner and includes a main body (3), a sub-body (2), a key-pad (see Fig. 5) including a power key (see Fig. 5, which shows multiple function or manipulation keys, as discussed in col. 1, ln. 39-44; col. 4, ln. 60-63) on the main body (3), and an automatic sub-body switch (5) for automatic sub-body opening/closing in a position where a user can key-input even if the sub-body (2) is closed onto the main body (3), as discussed in col. 4, ln. 55-64; col. 5, ln. 6-25; col. 8, ln. 9-16, 50-57; col. 11, ln. 7-15; col. 13, ln. 22-29; and as shown in Figs. 5, 6, 8, 12, 16, and 18.

The applied reference fails to disclose or render the obvious, said power control apparatus comprising: a first switch; a second switch; and a control unit for controlling said first and second switches according to a powered-on/off state of the terminal; wherein one end of each of said first switch and said second switch is connected in common at a first node connected to the automatic sub-body switch and the other end of said first switch is connected to a first input end of said control unit, and the other end of said second switch and the power key are connected in common at a second node connected to a second input end of said control unit.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
